Dear [REDACTED] 25X1A9a

I am glad to have your letter of 12 March 1959 concerning possibilities of reassignment in other Divisions of the Agency. It is always in the best interest of the Agency and its employees to give full consideration to individual qualifications and preferences in planning career assignments, and your letter is most helpful in this respect.

In your case, the Agency has undergone considerable expense in recruiting and training you for the specific duties you now are performing. This included the holding open of a T/O slot for you at the [REDACTED] for nearly a year before you entered on duty, and a further period of training for several months in your specific duties. You have made good progress, and this heavy investment is now beginning to pay off in terms of true benefit to the Agency. After careful consideration of all the factors involved, I cannot conclude that it would be wise to discard this extensive preparation at this time.

I therefore request that you continue your present duties for one more year. If you then still wish to explore job possibilities in other parts of the Agency, [REDACTED] will support 25X1A8a your efforts at that time.

Sincerely,

25X1A9a

Chief, [REDACTED] 25X1A8a
